Persuasive Essay

Dear Mr. O'rear,

I don't think it's fair to make students dress out for P.E.

Why can't we wear blue jeans in P.E.? Most students, like me, are self conscious and they don't feel comfortable dressing out in front of people. Also, the locker rooms are places for bullies to pick on the students without teachers finding out. Lastly, if you are dressed out in shorts your chances of injury on your legs are increases.

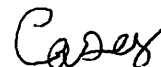

Firstly, people that are self conscious make up about 48.9% of Americans. And then there are bullies that pick on them and make their self esteem go down. Then when they do get it back they lose it to their friends getting beat up. Then they just stop dressing out.

Secondly, locker rooms are bully hangouts. People will go in there to dress out and if they don't like dressing out in front of people, they will use the showers, and then bullies come and either yank open the curtains or turn the water on, and soak the person in the shower.

Lastly, if you are accident prone and you dress out; your chance of hurting your knees and legs increases. Blue jeans help stop that from happening. And then there are some people who can only afford cloths once a year.

In closing, why should we have to dress out for that kind of rule, when we are better off in blue jeans?

Sincerely,

Casey
